From the N. Y. Evening Post, (Republican.)

A WAY TO VICTORY. The movement of the liberal Republicans, which threatens to organize and to take permanent form at the Cincinnati Convention on the first of May, seems to be gathering force rapidly. The manifesto of the New York "bolters" has been quickly followed by a manifesto from the liberal Republicans of Wisconsin; calls for reform conventions in Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Jersey have been published, and words of approbation have been pronounced by prominent Republicans in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and in other States in which the Republican party is predominant, all looking towards the enforcement of the promises of reform which have remained unfulfilled for four years. The character of many of the men who have lately encouraged this independent movement seems to indicate that unless the Republican leaders promptly reject the timid advice of the office-holders and the Senatorial ring, and denounce the mercenary overtures of the monopolists who are besieging Congress to postpone reforms, the nomination of a Sikh regiments-the First and Fourthsecond Republican candidate for President is as nearly certain as that General Grant will be renominated at Philadelphia. The late elections in New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island give strength to this opinion, for, while the Democrats would have accepted victory in those States as a precursor of their national success. now they accept defeat as a command to be passive in the national canvass, allowing the Republicans to conduct the contest among themselves, and supporting that side which they judge to be the most favorable for the country. The responsibility for this condition of political affairs belongs to the Republicans in Congress. The convention at Cincincepted by all as simply an advisory meeting to influence the action of the National Republican Convention, seems likely to be forced into an independent position by the inaction and mismanagement of the leaders in Congress. It is not surprising, therefore, that the lobby who are interested in maintaining the present bungling civil service and that system of special legislation called a protective tariff, should be urging the House of Representatives to adopt the resolution which Senator Morton introduced the first week in the session for the final adjournment of Congress before the nominating conventions shall be held. Campaigning in India. The following is an extract from a Cal-

The tribes of the Dour Valley had been ordered to pay immediately a fine for having harbored the Mohammed Khails during the late and disastrous outbreak. The reply from the valley amounted to a defiance, and on the morning after night, when the reply arrived, Brigadier General Keyes was on his way to the valley, as direct as an arrow from a bow with a force of about 1,300 infantry, 300 horse, and two howitzers. A small Nuzari force, which was pushed on with a reconnoitering party, lost heart, and at last ran, and the Brigadier on the following mornng had to begin his advance by a pass which, in ordinary rules of war, ought to have been occupied by the enemy. Leaning the camp as it was, the little force was assembled at four o'clock in the suffer, morning, after four hours' hard marching arrived at the Lochee Pass. There was a slight detention here from roadmaking, and rations were served out. At 11 the men were again in motion, and an hour's hard marching and dragging forward of guns brought the Brigadier to a plateau on which were three of the refractory villages, | Hysterics, Cronp, Diptheria, Haiderkail's, Sokail's and Hainee's. Here demands for submission were made and obeyed, but Haiderkail and a large number of the villagers showed a decidedly hostile spirit, and when our troops came near enough they were fired upon. Two were then pushed on, and the village was stormed and fired; and the First Punjab infantry and the Second Punjab cavalry completed the disaster, and the village was
